

Request for Offers: District of Columbia Public Schools Excess Space

Appendix

Floor plans of the Reuse Sites are available at:

<http://dme.dc.gov/DC/DME/Initiatives+and+Priorities/Buildings+Available+for+Long-term+Lease>

Compiled below is a summary of the public hearings on each Reuse Site.

Appendix A – Hamilton School

- I. Community Input
  - On July 11, 2013 the District by and through the Department of General Services held a public hearing on the surplus designation of the Hamilton and Shaed Schools.
  - There were no objections to the surplus designation.

Appendix B – Shaed School

I. Community Input

- On July 11, 2013 the District by and through the Department of General Services held a public hearing on the surplus designation of the Hamilton and Shaed Schools.

The requested community uses for the facility from that hearing are compiled below:

- A recreation center
- Indoor recreation facility accessible to the public

Appendix C – Winston School

I. Community Input

- On July 12, 2013 the District by and through the Department of General Services held a public hearing on the surplus designation of the Winston School.

The requested community uses for the facility from that hearing are compiled below:

- Educational program that is for special needs students
- A DCPS “application” school for talented and gifted students
- An indoor aquatic center accessible to the public

Appendix D – Young School

- I. Community Input
  1. On July 10, 2013 the District by and through the Department of General Services held a public hearing on the surplus designation of the Young School.

The requested community uses for the facility from that hearing are compiled below:

- A library
- A recreation center
- Recovery of the memorabilia left inside of the Young School
- Retention of the Charles E. Young School name